Its Automatic Features Make Easier Plowing.

Merely by a push of the foot you can control the John Deere-Syracuse Two-Way Plow so that the bottoms can do a good job of plowing on hillsides, on level land, in nooks and corners of irregular fields, around stones and other obstructions.

JOHN DEERE Syracuse Two-Way Plow Built in the East for the East

The John Deere-Syracuse Two-Way Plow is equipped with one right and one left-hand bottom. Each bottom may be used alternately, and the plow operated back and forth across the field, throwing the soil all one way.

With this plow you can do away with dead furrows and back ridges, where these are not desired.

The Syracuse Two-Way is practically self-operating. The next time you are in town stop in and inspect it. Get on the seat. Shift the levers—notice particularly the patented Auto Foot Frame Shift, regulating width of furrow, controlled by a slight pressure on the foot levers. The Clevis Shift and the Horse Lift are both automatic.

Syracuse Features

Syracuse bottoms—the bottoms that always fit perfectly and do a good job of plowing.

Made in different styles to meet every soil condition.

Wheels set wide apart—better than narrow tread for hillside work.

IN MAINE

With apologies to R. L. Stevenson
How do you like to go up into Maine,
Up where the sky's so blue?
Oh, I do think it the pleasantest thing
Ever a man can do.

Up through the woods and onto a hill,
Till I can see so wide,
Rivers and trees and cattle and all
Over the country side.

When I go back to the work I've left,
Back to the rut and the seam,
Up into Maine I go flying again,
Up into Maine in dreams!

Freshman-Sophomore Debate

The Literary Club presented an excellent program Friday afternoon to an audience of two hundred or more, with Principal Lord as chairman. Two speakers were introduced, Mrs. Jennie Bates Russell and the Reverend T. C. Chapman. Mrs. Russell spoke on the evils of intemperance and cigarette smoking, dwelling upon the prominence of the latter in our schools and the results, and gave a short sketch of Frances B. Willard. Reverend Chapman gave a meaty address on Character: The Priceless, leaving the audience in a thoughtful mood. The High School Orchestra lent variety to the fine program, repeated encores testifying to an appreciative audience. The orchestra consisted of Myron Gilman, piano; Harry Kenyon, violin; Kenneth Dullea, harp; Willis Hasty, flute; Franklin Towne, cornet; and Brandon Reed, drums. Among the selections rendered were Dream Daddy, Linger Awhile, Arcadia, When It's Night Time in Italy It's Wednesday Over Here, and Maggie.

The feature of the afternoon was the second inter-class debate. The question was: Resolved, that the United States should enter the League of Nations. The Freshmen upheld the affirmative side in a business-like manner and exploded several bombs among the Sophomores on the negative side. In turn the Sophomores returned the fire but the Freshmen stood up well in face of the heavy artillery. The Freshman team consisted of Catharine Longley, first speaker; Gary Locke, second speaker; Phoebe Cobb, third speaker; and Doris M. McAllister, rebuttal. For the Sophomores: Alice Dyer, first speaker; Doris Cole, second speaker; Emma Porter, third speaker; and Hallie McKenney, rebuttal. The judges, Miss Hamilton, Rev. Chapman, and Mr. Edminster, decided after a lengthy period in favor of the negative side. Some friendly discussion followed, but though the Sophomores gave on the whole a better presentation, the Freshmen were far ahead in organized material, and that the Sophomores begged the question by springing a substitute, the World Court.

Some talk has been made by the Freshmen of urging the Sophomores to another debate in the future. The school championship will be decided later when the Sophomores debate the Seniors.

Frederick William Allen

Peacefully crossing that bourne from which no traveler returns, in the morning hours of Saturday, March 8, there went out from among us one whose life will never cease to spread its influence around us.

Frederick William Allen passed away Saturday morning, March 8, at 9:30 o'clock at his home on Skillings Avenue. He went to the C. M. G. Hospital at Lewiston, Jan. 15, remaining a short time as a surgical operation was not deemed advisable. So he was brought home and made comfortable and tenderly cared for by Blanche Kneeland and his father, J. Q. Allen, and William Kneeland, until he passed away. For the past few months he has borne his sufferings with fortitude and courage.

Fred Allen was born at Franklin Plantation, Feb. 3, 1881, the son of J. Q. and the late Ada F. (Canwell) Allen and was 43 years of age. He was one of a family of five children, two of whom are now living, Herbert L. Allen of Woodstock and one sister, Eva, wife of Harry Dudley of South Paris.

In our life we have never met a person of more sweet and gentle disposition and winning manners or more loyal devotion to every friend and every duty and we miss his warm hand clasp and pleasant smile with great sorrow. Mr. Allen passed his school days at Norway and graduated from an automobile school several years ago. He was employed by Elgin Greenleaf at his Willard Service Station for a year and later home that he worked so hard for and was so comfortably settled in, known as the Allen Battery Service Station, at South Paris. His greatest aim was to be able with the help of his assistant, Winfield Bennett, a young lad of only nineteen years to carry on his battery station. Mr. Allen was very so pleased when people called to see him, or to be in his life, in the midst of kind and loving friends and neighbors, the funeral services were held on Monday, March 10, at one o'clock. Rev. C. G. Miller officiated, speaking words of comfort and hope to his loved ones. The bearers were Fred Durgin, Robert Wheeler, Winfield Bennett and Leon Voyes.

The deceased leaves his father, J. Q. Allen, his brother and sister and two aunts and several nieces, nephews and cousins to mourn their loss. Interment was at Pine Grove cemetery.

"In the silence, hushed, we listen for the voice we heard no more. On that blissful heavenly shore."

No longer could he suffer. Because it was his Saviour's will. To call him hence away. He sleeps in Jesus, free from pain. Our loss, though great, to him is gain. Beloved by all who knew him here. A most faithful and devoted friend of 43 years has passed on leaving behind scenes of earth to that bright heaven where sorrows never come and partings are unknown.

Day by day we all do miss him. Words would fail our loss to tell. But in Heaven we hope to meet him. Happy there with Christ to dwell. Sometime, some day, our eyes shall see. The face we loved so well. Some day his hand will clasp in ours. And never say farewell.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful and showed a wide circle of loving friends. The floral tributes consisted of the following:

Spray of Pinks, Sen and Brother—Mr. J. G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dudley.

Spray of Pinks, Sen and Brother—Mr. J. G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dudley.

A Few Poultry Notes

Once more the busy season of hatching chickens is drawing near and our Northern poultry men and women are doing the possibilities of all are enthusiastic over healthy, thrifty chicks to stock their flocks of pullets for the next season. Mrs. H. M. Jackson is busy as usual with her flock of R. I. Reds, large, thrifty, healthy beauties, which are repaying her for years of careful breeding and selecting of the best, always with an ambition to improve her brooding stock. Mrs. Jackson took off 93 (ninety-three) smart chickens from her 150 egg machine last week. Several have already purchased setting eggs of her this year. One machine, having only six infertile eggs out of 100 set. Others are testing fine. Mrs. Jackson's hens are laying unusually well this winter, trying to do their share to fill the orders for those big brown eggs for setting. Her son, Alpheus Jackson, is an enthusiastic and interested in the poultry business as his mother. They have recently purchased a large size incubator which they have filled. He built a hen house last year, doing most of the carpenter work himself (which we think pretty good for a boy of twelve years old) and has his own special flocks of hens. He intends to hatch a number of R. I. Red chicks this spring. He gives his hens good care and their every need is supplied and attended to on the farm. He is a very ambitious boy and enjoys the work in the poultry yard and among the hens and chickens.

Mrs. W. F. Young on Crockett Ridge is another of our successful poultry women. Mrs. Young makes a specialty of Barred Plymouth Rocks and is wintering a large flock of laying hens. She has some very choice breeding stock and is kept busy hatching baby chicks for her customers and herself. She filled her incubators last week for her first hatches and we are looking forward to the hundreds of thrifty little Barred Rock chicks which will soon be seen and heard at Mrs. Young's poultry yard.

Mrs. Geo. S. Westleigh breeds the White Plymouth Rocks and is wintering about ninety. She will soon be setting up incubators as she already has orders to fill and intends hatching several hundred.

Mrs. Leon A. Emery visited her brother, Robert Hatch, who is in a hospital at Portland, where he has undergone an operation.

Capt. Mel Sampson: "Applications are pouring in for cottages and boats. All our friends will return next summer and many new ones may be expected."

Veranda Club Notes

Veranda Club met with Mrs. Gertrude Stearns at the home of Mrs. Nellie Merz Thursday evening, February 28, with a good attendance. Several new members were admitted to the Club. It was voted to meet with Mrs. Eva Fogg Wednesday evening, March 6, to take a quilt. A short program was carried out by the members. After the business meeting the hostess served lunch.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Boatrice Traflet Thursday evening, March 13.

The Veranda Club held a benefit card party at the home of Mrs. Cordelia McKay with three tables at play Saturday evening, March 1, also one with Mrs. Alice Blaquiere, Saturday evening, March 2, with three tables. Dainty refreshments were served at both parties.

There will be one this Saturday evening March 15, with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wood, Danforth St., by special invitation.

Ernest Desotouan, a member of Company C, was shot through the index finger while in target practice at the armory. The accident occurred when he was firing a 22 calibre cartridge into an adapter flange wound was inflicted but the bone was not shattered.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher were called to Yarmouth, Wednesday by the sudden death of Mr. Fletcher's mother. Her death occurred about noon on that day. They expect to return Friday night or Saturday.

First Baseball Meeting

A good number of Norway baseball fans talked over affairs for the coming season at the Norway Buick Co. sales room, Friday evening.

The meeting failed to shape up anything definite for the future except extinguish the deficit from last year. Some $200 was cleared from the supper and entertainment and suggestions were advanced in the informal talk for ways and means to clean the slate.

In touching up for an organization, none wanted the president's berth. The question of a ball team for the summer was discussed pro and con with the feeling generally in favor of putting one across but no definite plan about finances.

One strong point brought out was that if a real team is to be brought-out now is the time to begin. Players are signing early and the live managers skins off the cream while the easy going ones are watching the snow drift. So far as Norway is concerned, the majority of last year's players are anxious to return. Many have offers pending while waiting our verdict.

Organizing new men into a working unit is no cinch. Several weeks are gone and some money dropped before a winning streak infuses the box office receipts. With practically the entire team back again, time and money would be saved. In other words, Norway may be doing business while many are struggling with try-outs and re-adjustments.

Summer baseball is considered a great asset. Trademark conceded the Twin Town Club the best advertising medium at the lowest cost, this town ever had.

We have a large sporting element, both natives and summer transients demanding they go elsewhere. Leaving town Saturday afternoon means spending money away from home. Boards of Trade and others in Maine cities are wise to this situation and offer inducements to coax trade. Let's wake up and start something before the best talent has been gobbled.

Bowling Alley Notes

In the Town Championship Cup Contest at Parris's Alley, Eugene Desotouan has won the silver trophy in two individual matches with one more to catch if he is to become his property. He defeated the first challenger Paul Boynton and will defend his title against Scott Kilburn at an early meeting. "Gene" is new in the game, but has proved a regular whirlwind.

Two teams of young ladies led by Edna Christy and Ella Desotouan played in a tie score Thursday evening. This was 922.

The second team of cutters at Norway Shoe Co. defeated a team from the Carroll, Jellerson Co., Saturday evening. The score was 1332-1188 in five strings.

The All-Stars at Mrs. Rich's boarding house defeated Gene Chaffin's shoe shop team Friday evening. Summary:

SOMETHING NEW IN MAGAZINE COVERS

The public is generally familiar with The Youth's Companion's Historic Milestone Covers that have been appearing for some time past. They represent dramatic incidents, high lights in our history, and are presented in full color on an average of once a month.

The remaining forty numbers in a year's issue have taken on a new dress—a cover attractively arranged in red and blue. Supplementing the Milestone plan, these covers are known as Citizen Builders. Each one carries an individual message of fifty to seventy-five words. They are varied in character—humor and philosophy in verse and prose—generally from the pens of living men—educators, churchmen and men of business. All are helpful and stimulating.

Parents, teachers and librarians are loud in their praise of this new feature of The Companion. All perceive the purpose of the work and approve the aim that underlies it—better citizenship.

MY DAUGHTER WOULD CRY AT EVERYTHING

Nervous and Irritable. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Became Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and was irritable, and would cry at every little thing she was so weak and nervous. As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped me when I was a girl I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were all that we could wish for. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the nicest babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly."—Mrs. I. A. HOLFORD, Box 48, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Mothers depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of those troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

The Path Across the Hill
The following three-act comedy drama "The Path Across the Hill" by Lillian Mortimer will be presented March 27th in the Grange Hall for the benefit of the Grange. The cast of characters is as follows:
Samuel Crawford, grandpa... Charles Barden
Robert Post, the visitor... Karl Briggs
Walter Conrad, Ruth's brother... Simon Farr
Dr. Jimmie Reed, with ambition... Clarence Smith
Salamander Alexander John Henry Jones, Zuzi's choice... Henry Stone
Mrs. Davis, grandma... Edward Davis
Ruth Conrad, nicknamed "Bobbie"... Louise Peabody
Pio Gray, Ruth's cousin... Lucy Burrows
Lena, a neighbor... Lena Burrows
Gunn, the cook... Lena Burrows
Scene, the entire action takes place in the living room of Ruth Conrad's home in an Eastern village. There is plenty of humor and comedy interspersed through the acts. Gunn, the cook, and her choice Salamander Jones are a scream and Pio Gray is full of life and every other character is well taken. The following quotation is taken from a more sober part in one of Mrs. Davis', who is afterward grandma, speeches, "The good Lord intends that we shall work out our own problems. Then we learn something and when a mortal interferences with God's plan, it's sure to tangle things up." There are some good specialties expected between acts.

LETTER FROM JAMES S. NOBLE

Editor Norway Advertiser,
Dear Sir: I saw an article in your paper in the issue of Feb. 23 in regard to furnishing news to the paper so as to make it interesting to those who read it. It is true, if people don't furnish news, the Editor cannot print them, so if it will be acceptable to you, I will try to furnish something.

There are people living in Norway who probably don't remember me, and yet there are some who do. I used to spend my boyhood days in Norway in the summer time, 50 or 60 years ago and therefore I can call Norway my home.

In getting your paper every week it's like getting a letter from home. I find a good many things in it that are of great interest to me.

At the present, I am living about 10 miles from St. Paul, Minnesota, it is a small place, but quiet, you get plenty of fresh air, and I am enjoying good health. In regard to our winters here, will say that so far we have had remarkable weather, only in January it was very cold, but February weather was just the climax, it was warmer, and now it is thawing a good deal to-day, not much snow.

I was in Norway in August and September, 1921, and I enjoyed visiting around amongst my friends and relatives and seeing some of the beautiful sights for which Norway is famous. I was 25 years ago that I visited Norway last and I hope sometime to come again.

In regard to my parents, will say that my father was Nathan K. Noble and my mother was the daughter of James Crockett, the pioneer merchant there.

I attended fathers and sons' banquet here last week, they had a large representation and of course we all had a good time. I will close now until next time.

Yours sincerely,
James S. Noble

WHEN YOU BREAK A BILL

The change remaining seems of so little consequence that usually it is quickly spent. You have heard people say, "When I break a bill I consider it all gone."

If you pay by check you pay only the exact amount and do not disturb the balance. Then these small amounts—the "left-overs"—of even sums—accumulate into larger amounts. This is just one of the advantages of a checking account.
